(BT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 16—(Exclusive Disatch.] An aftermath of the De Raym mystery, centering about the lentity of the woman secretary of aron Schlippenbach, who posed grough life as a man, came today hen Anna Raylan, the "widow," rought suit against the former Rusan Consul for 1200.

The Baron is now Russian Consulenceral in New York, and great servey surrounds the suit, as the atments as the service upon the Baron before lawes Chicago to take up his new sation.

It is, the plank has very little bind-ing force.

The better educated and more conservative members of the committee brotest strongly against the other radical planks. They finally gave up for this reason.

None of them secretly believed that Bryan bas a chance.

If these Bryan socialistic planks were rejected the Peerless One would always blame his defeat on the platform framers. So they saw the best thing would be to let Bryan go the limit and have everything exactly as he wanted; then let him "get it good."

FINGERS CROSSED.

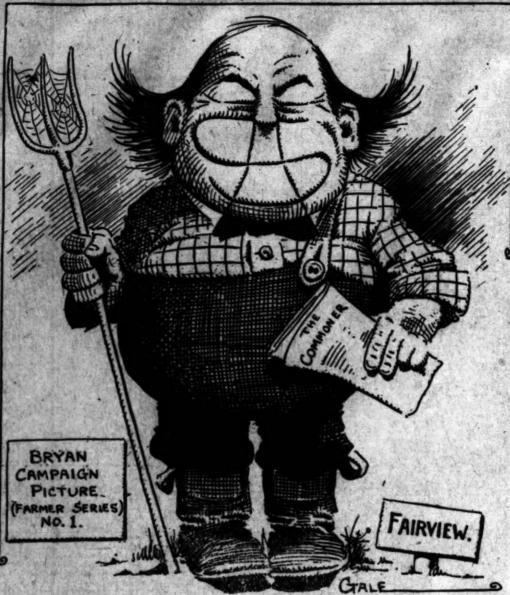

They were discussing the advisibility of doing this and some were wavering in the decision, when the newsboy cast the die.

He went down the hall roaring: "Extry! Extry! Bryan nominated." The members of the committee looked at one another significantly.

"He's nominated." they said. "Well, let him have his own platform." So they quickly came to a decision, and they are the planks as the grand planks. They finally gave up for this readon.

When the subcommittee read its report to the main committee, Mr. Dockweller asked the direct question of the chairman if the plank is to be construed as forbidding injunctions. The Bryanized chairman replied that it did not.

Had Gompers been represented by a competent attorney, his plank would, it is said, have been more dangerous.

As it is, the plank has very little binding force.

played as Mr. Bryan appeared. The crowd surged up the front steps and against the hideous Korean lions in order to shake Mr. Bryan's hand and offer him congratulations.

They were Mr. Bryan's fellow-townsmen, and a great many of them he greeted by their first names. Mrs. Bryan also greeted many of her triends.

The homage of the people he had known for so many years, many of them opposed to him in politics, af-fected Mr. Bryan to a degree which were speaking upon the same subject.

POLITICS OVERWHELMED.
"But I want to assure you now, before the campaign opens, and before I have to make a political speech, I want to assure you now, whatever I may say on the subjects that divide us, whatever arguments I may advance in support of those policies which to me seem best for the country, I want you always to know and never to forget, that I believe that the things that bind us together as citizens are more important and more numerous than our political views.
"I want you to know that however earnest I may be in the presentation of my political ideas, I recognize at all times the equal right of every other citizen to hold opinions, and as I respect you no less for candidly stating your views, I hope you will think none the less of me if I candidly state my views when the occasion calls for a statement.
"I like to believe that every Amer-rammar grades of the public schools here, according to an announcement made by the educational board today, because so many pupils marry without finishing a high school course.

Dr. M. R. Walker, président of the board, says all children should know how to cook, and he will have an equipment installed for instruction. It is planned to teach the students how to make bread primarily, although other branches of cooking will be demonstrated.

Tilke to believe that every American citizen prefers the triumph of that which is right to the triumph of that which he may believe to be right if he is, in fact, mistaken. And, my friends, building on this basis we can be both earnest and charitable, for if we wive desire the triumph of justice more than the triumph of justice more than the triumph of justice more than the triumph of erroneous optnions.

"We are prepared for either victory and if it is a deserved victory and if it results in the advancement of the commonwealth and we know that if defeat comes it can only be temporary, if not been made. But it served just the same.

The apology of the Democrats for the platform to each other is that it is only a hook thrown out for votes, and that their fingers were crossed when they did it.

Delaware yielded to Georgia her place on the roil call, and L. I. Hill from the latter State placed Clark Howell of Atlanta in nomination.

Mr. Hill made a happy little speech that had in the minds of the delegates an added virtue in that it was, short. The mention of Mr. Howell's name was greeted with much applause, Florida, next on the call of States, yielded to Missouri and Gov. Joseph W. Folk took the platform amid cheers from all sections of the hall. His greeting was the most enthusiastic extended to any of the Speakers. It was some little time after his introduction before he could proceed. When he spoke it was to second the nomination of Mr. Kern's name.

"Idaho seconds the nomination of Charles A. Towne," shouted a delegate from that State when its name was reached on the roil.

Mr. James, after Idaho had been heard, yielded the gavel to James Hamilton Lewis of Chleago, who recognized Fred Kern of Illinois as his first official act. Mr. Kern placed the name of John Mitchell before the convention. Although he did not offer him as a candidate, a cheer followed the mention of Mitchell's name. Mr. Kern said that Mitchell had said that he preferred that his name be not presented as a candidate, and he, therefore, on bebalf of Illinois, seconded the nomination of Kern of Indiana.

(ONVENTION HALL (Denver) July 10.—At 1 o'clock, the hour to which the convention adjourned this morning not one-fourth of the delegates were in their seats, and they were coming slowly into the hall. The long, hard seasion of last night, conducted, as it was, in great heat, and the fatigue caused by the physical work of the two great demonstrations in honor of Mr. Bryan, combined to make most ample excuse for late arrivals.

Today the heat was even greater than yesterday and the temperature inside the hall was high and uncomfortable. The public, however, seemed to have as much interest as ever in the convention and the galleries were packed long before any considerable number of delegates had arrived. Among the first delegations to reach the hall was that of Texas, and when L. R. Irving Handy of Delaware, who last night placed George Gray in nomination, walked into the hall, the Texans, who had prepared a banner bearing the words. "Texas is for Gray in nomination, walked into the hall, the Texans, who had prepared a banner bearing the words. "New York," said Mr. Cohalan, "came to this convention without a candidate either for the Presidency or Vice-Presidency. We were under instructions from our State convention to consult with leaders from all parts of the country to see what best might be done for the party. We are convinced that the voice of the party in no uncertain tones called for the nomination of William J. Bryan and we now feel there is the same call for Mr. Kern. New York, therefore, desires to second Mr. Kern and in behalf of the militant Democracy of the Empire State, I desire to piedge our earnest support and to say to you that all that can be done by harmony, intellect, energy or force to bring about victory in November for our ticket will be done."

Mr. Cohalan was loudly cheered.

Connecticut withdrew the name of McNeil and moved that the nomination be made by acciamation. Nebraska, which had been passed, had been forgotten and the clerk asked that it be called, and then seconded Kern. "Gentlemen of the convention," asid Mr. James of Kentucky, who was again in the chair, "you have heard the motion. Are you ready for the question?"

"Question!" came from all parts of the hall.

Mr. James stated it and at 4:14 o'clock p.m. a roar of "ayes" made John W. Kern of Indiana the nominee for Vice-President of the Democratic party.

John W. Kern of Indiana the nomines for Vice-President of the Democratic party.

The convention was instantly in great confusion and was brought back to order with difficulty. A large number of resolutions and motions were offered and by their adoption the National Committee was directed to fill any vacancies that may occur on the national ticket just nominated, and the various State central committees were empowered to fill any vacancies from their States on the National Committee.

A motion was passed tendering the thanks of the convention to Thomas Taggart, retiring chairman of the committee, for his part in the work. Other resolutions adopted expressed the thanks of the convention to the city of Denver because of the manner in which it had entertained the delegates, and to Permanent Chairman Clayton and to Temporary Chairman Bell for the ability with which they had conducted the sessions of the convention.

Another motion was adopted with a cheer, appointing Mr. Clayton chairman of the committee appointed to notify Mr. Bryan of his nomination

Judge Gray declined to make any comment on the action of the convention, but it was evident that it was no personal disappointment to him, While the judge had been advocated for the Presidential nomination by his friends here and elsewhere for the past six months, he had no part in this work, and all that was done in his behalf was without his sanction. Situation in Honduras is Grave and Serious Charges Are Made Against Neighboring Governments Which Are Emphatically Denied by President of Salvador.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) July 10.—

News has been received here that the rebels, who are fighting against President Davils of Honduras, have captured the town of Choluteca, and, flushed with success, are threatening Santa Barbara.

It is persistently reported here that the movement in Honduras is being aided in a guarded manner by the governments of Salvador and Guatemala, and certain information was received here last night which tends strongly to confirm these rumors.

Choluteca is one of the most strongly fortified posts in Honduras. The insurgents already are in possession of the town of Gracias, and their position will be much strengthened by the capture of Choluteca.

Choluteca is a town of 5000 people, and is situated seventy miles southwest of Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras. Santa Barbara has about 5000 people, and is 115 miles northwest of Tegucigalpa.

Why Maple?

Why do we use Maple Syrup? Not a mixture of cane syrup and maple/ but the pure Vermont maple. We boil it into the wheat before flaking.

The main reason is—the children. They like the flavor of the maple better than anything else that is good for them.

We are making a food which we know to be the best for them. Isn't it wise, for all concerned, to induce them to like it?

It is so because of our process, consuming 96 hours. Because we spend six hours in steamcooking. Because of our method of curing. Because we toast the thin flakes, for 30 minutes, in a heat of 400 degrees. There are numerous wheat foods-numerous flaked foods. But we spend four times the time that some others spend in the preparing. The result is, the starch is digestible.

Mapl-Flake is the perfect food.

Raw starch gives scarcely more nourishment than chalk. Half-cooked starch yields half its possible nourishment. But from Maple Flake you get the benefit of every atom of food that costs the same on both. And the cream cost is more than the food cost. Mapi-Plake is all food because it all digests. Isn't it more economical than a food that's half food—a food that but half digests? Besides, the starch that doesn't digest is bound to ferment and breed germs. That is why we spend those 96 hours in preparing

What if Mapi-Plake does cost 15 cents, while other flakes cost 10 cents? The cream

There was considerable disappointment that the game did not go on until there was a score, for there was plenty of daylight to play additional innings, but it was by the agreement of Capt. While O'Connell could have exercised his prerogative and compelled the teams to play, he was not disposed to do so in view of the agreement of the management of the contesting teams. Johnson butted into the game in the fourth inning with a play that kept the Seals from scoring. of Wind Effective.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The July fight card will be Hugo Kelly and Stanley Ketchel for the middleweight championship. Joe O'Connor today signed a contract agreeing to allow Ketchel to box Kelly twenty rounds before the Pacific Athetic Club, July 31, the weight to be 154 pounds four hours before entering the ring. Five hundred dollars was posted to bind the agreement. Marisch has already wired transportation to Kelly and his manager, who will leave Chicago at once.

500 yards slow fire, and six "G" targets in the skirmish ranges.

A possible 50 can be made at each event except the skirmish run, where it is possible to make 100 on the prone slihouette in the group target, yet on account of the extreme difficulty of rapid firing at the various distances on so small an object, the marksmen usually fire only at the kneeling slihouette for the longer, distances, and thus strive only for a possible $5.

Totals for the first round are as follows:

SIERRA MADRE, July 10—
While a pack train of horses and burros was descending Wilson's trail yesterday, a horse owned by Fred Hill was pushed over the cliff and fell two or three hundred feet. The accident was caused by one of the burros, who, jealous of his place in the ranks, rushed toward the leader of the train, crowding the others ahead of him and pushing this horse off at a very narrow point.

clambered down the steep bank and found the horse in the canon. Beyond a few cuts, it was uninjured and was enjoying the scant pasturage among the sagebrush in the canon. The men found, however, that the animal could not be coaxed nor forced to try the ascent. Beyoral ineffectual attempts were made to get it up, but all overtures were declined foreibly, so sate last night he was left in his new corral. This morning at daybreak, Hill and a gang of men started for the canon with shovels, picks, and other appliances, and built a road that appealed to the sensitive feelings of this horse.

Representatives of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company appeared before the Board of Equalization yesterday to protest against the valuations placed by County Assessor Hopkins on the 155 acres of land on Terminal Island owned and controlled by the corporation.

It was urged that the total appraisement of 256,519 should be reduced to 3415,000, on the ground that these figures are inaccordance with valuations placed on parcels of land contiguous to the corporation's holdings.

The valuation of 375,000 placed on the lease to harbor lands granted by the city of Long Beach to the corporation was also declared excessive. It was asserted that this assessment should be reduced to 24,000.

A 37000 assessment on right of way had been assessed by the State Board of Equalization. The hearing on the protests will be held Monday morning.

Capt. J. T. Bridy, former Supervisor for the First District, appeared in behalf of the Consolidated Water Company of Claremont and Pomons to ask a reduction of its assessment form $12,000 to $22,000. He said that the corporation's property is worth only $44,000, and that 50 per cent. of its value would be a fair assessment. County Assessor Hopkins stated that experts had placed a value of $66,200 on the Ciaremont water rights, and $12,500 on its Ciaremont water rights and franchise. The request was taken under advisement.

Ralph C. Guirado protested against a $10,000 ansessment on his property facing on Central avenue, Gladys street and Fifth street. He wanted the assessment reduced to $700. His request was denied, as the property is said to be worth $50,000.

Citizens of the First and Eighth wards who attended the large and enthusiastic mass meeting Thursday evening, on the Hazard reservoir site, will ask the city to spend $16,000 for a playground in the northeast section of the city. The Hazard Improvement Association has been formed to boost the proposition. The officers are B. F. Groves, president; W. L. Brown, vice-president; J. The association will also try to secure the paving of certain streets that need it; to have electric lights placed on San Pablo street and Griffin avenue, and to have a four-inch water main substituted for the smaller one now in use.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Bryan's neighbors will him the honor, this year, of allowing him to at ast carry his own ward.

Notwithstanding that there is no quarrel on the subject, the spellbinders will doubtless insist on talking tariff, just the same.

We will say for the Jane Jefferson ladles that they acted in a perfectly becoming manner and overed themselves with glory.

In view of the fact that Bryan has grown fat and baid we now propose Ignatius Dunn for the of-fice of "Boy Orator of the Platte."

The Presidential succession having been settled, let us turn our attention to business and start all the idle wheels to making music.

"It means a whole lot more to Los Angeles that the Owens River bonds have been disposed of than that a Presidential election is on hand. Judge Gray stood his ground and refused to be-come a tail for the Nebraska kite. It was to be expected, and the country is not disappointed.

The thing to do is always to have a hope ahead

We could mention the name of a man in Nebrask who has grown to be a millionaire on that plan.

Another ominous indication of what is to hap-pen is the fact that while the Tammany delegates usted for Bryan they did not join in the cheers.

A fierce dispute is again raging in literary cir-as as to who was the resi author of "Casey at Bat." Whoever he was, let him rest in peace.

Look as the political map before you place any arge bets. There are a lot of Republican States hat must turn Democratic if Bryan is to be elected. If men can make airships to fly, certainly they hould be able to harness the ocean. There's a nighty lot of power going to waste in the and ses that word may go East to the tourist army, advising them to make preparations to bring their touring cars here next winter. By the time they have all voted for Taft in their own home States they will be ready to get out of the way of flying snowflakes and mud. When they arrive here for the holidays we shall have a piece of good road here and there for them to take a spin over.

The action at Whittier on Thursday will be followed all through the country. The farmers in La Habra Valley are like those in other prosperous and progressive districts. They want good roads to haul their crops over and they know that a good road saves more than half the expense.

Yes, perhaps the road may not run exactly past some ranch house, but one branch or another will run close to every farmer's home. It will be better to have a good road within a few miles than none within reach. A mile or two of road will be easily built by local enterprise and thus a connection made with the highway.

There is not an important city or town in the county that is not reached by these highways, as planned by the commission.

The bonds will go. And roadstwill go radiating through all parts of the county and be the best investment ever made here or elsewhere. It is a project in which all have an interest, and out of which all will get a big dividend.

SO SAY WE ALL.

Carnegie says the election of Taft is sure.

Hoot, mon, Andy is canny, ye ken. He knows who and has confidence in their intelligence and good judgment.

Bryan has had two chances to show the voters why they should favor him, and he has failed to impress them. The people are like a court. It is difficult, almost impossible, to get them to reverse their own decisions. The more they see of Bryan and the better they know him, the less inclined they are to take stock in him.

A man shouts, "Bryan and principle." Yes? It is Bryan all right. But the motto should be "Bryan and fads." He has had to go to the grave-yard and set up headstones over his "principles" year by year in order to remember on which issues he met defeat, so as not to try a "dead one" on the voters.

NOISELESS REFORM

sional reformers who have little understanding of what they are engaged in and no care for any re-realization of the result of defective vision. The optical nerves work faultily and we see well enough, but the unconscious effort to remedy the defect in the nerves of the eye sets the brain wild with racking pain. Later it has been ascertained that the trouble may not be directly in the optic nerves, but come from some defect in the teeth. Toothaches may not develop, nor may the child have any consciousness of any trouble with the teeth. Yet there may be a crowding of the teeth, or some malformation at the root of one of them, which will affect the organs of vision, producing which will affect the organs of visio ous, peevish, willful, inattentive to study and possible of control.

Educators have called in expert medical skill in such cases and by finding the ultimate seat of the trouble great relief has been produced, making an inattentive child diligent, a peevish one of good disposition, a headstrong one reasonable. To those who have this work in hand be it said the merit in that they are doing it all in the most who have this work in hand be it said the merit is great in that they are doing it all in the most matter-of-fact way, seeking no plaudits from the world or other reward than that which comes from a good conscience, the self-satisfaction of being useful. So long as this goes on, the lot of the children will be greatly bettered; but keep away from the children the hand, voice and presence of the awful crowd that play to the grand-stand, who are architeus only to make themselves conspicuous. ambitious only to make themselves conspicuous, and who know too well the trick of attracting attention by noise rather than by work well done.

Go into South Chicago in the neighborhood of the stock yards and see the surroundings in which thousands of children grow up. The influences are about destructive of physical and moral wellbeing as could be imagined. The houses crowd being as could be imagined. The houses crowd upon one another along narrow streets so that any free movement of the air is completely obstructed. The rooms are small, ill-lighted, badly ventilated. The schools have been wedged in among the houses almost as compactly as any of the buildings. The small playgrounds were until recently in a condition of disorder, of banality and general lack of attractiveness which would disqualify them for the bear of a California ground squirrel as and of attractiveness which the home of a California ground squirrel or owl. So in almost all the large cities of the country.

So in almost all the large cities of the country.

But in the last six months statistics tell us that $6,000,000 has been spent in our great cities for playgrounds for the children. In three years the city of Chicago has spent $6,000,000 for playgrounds. These range from six to seventy acres each. They are not spaces of dust and squalor. Baseball grounds are provided. In the large ones there are sometimes lakelets on which rowing may be practiced. Gymnastic appliances are common. In winter, skating is a pastime on the waters. In summer there are tennis courts for larger boys and girls, and swings, hobby horses, wading ponds, sand heaps and see-saws for the tots. Lockers are provided in which garments, bats, lunches and any other property may be kept. A lunches and any other property may be kept. A lunchroom is maintained where the cost is all that is charged. An assembly hall for lectures is often a feature. Dances and concerts are permitted. It costs Chicago $180,000 to maintain these playgrounds.

And this has become a part of the life of nearly all great cities. San Francisco, two years ago when the city was swept away by earthquake and fire, set apart $1,000,000 for playgrounds. Cleveland has twenty-two playgrounds, Detroit nine, Richmond, Virginia, twelve. Berkeley has sold nearly half a million dollars' worth of playground bonds. Massachusetta has passed a law that every city of 10,000 people shall provide at least one playground, adding in the proportion of one to each 20,000 more resultation.

city of 10,000 people shall provide a ground, adding in the proportion of one to each 20,000 more population.

Los Angeles is progressive and has always provided schools with ample grounds. The parks of the city afford playgrounds for the children, and we have many special children's playgrounds, too, equal in equipment to any in the land, and are doing more in this direction year by year.

With this great reform we shall have less sick children, and generally a more robust humanity. As the physical health improves there will be less crankiness and more saneness of mind as well as of body. With healthy digestive organs and stronger muscles will come brighter minds and stronger wills.

THE GRADE CROSSING.

But in an article by J. O. Fagan, a railroad signal man, who has been making confessions, the Atlantic drifts from safe mooring.

This writer takes up the case of an accident near Boston. Here are the salient facts:

"The other day in the vicinity of Boston several teams were smashed and two persons were killed at a well-known and very dangerous crossing. At a moment when perhaps the crush was greatest, the gong in the gatehouse gave warning that an express train was approaching. Immediately there ensued a wild scramble to hustle the stream of humanity over the crossing and out of the way of the train. It was no easy task for the gateman. Begardless of the descending gates, a number of manity over the crossing and out of the way of the train. It was no easy task for the gateman. Regardless of the descending gates, a number of teams unable to turn aside made a final dash to get to the other side. To drop the gates on the backs of the horses was out of the question, and, as a last resort, frantic yet useless attempts were made to flag the approaching train. In the midst of the excitement the flyer dashed upon the scene with disastrous results."

And here is the comment:

"The question why and how people are killed almost every day at these crossings received no attention whatever. Public opinion, not unreasonably perhaps, is satisfied with the assurance that everything humanly and reasonably possible under the circumstances was done by the railroad men concerned in it to get the teams out of the way of the trains. But it did not occur to any one that the whole system of keeping teams out of the way of trains is inherently and inexcusably wrong. The list of victims who are sacrificed to this popular mistake is being added to daily. If the public has any right at all on these crossings it goes without question that, while they are making use of their rights and in the act of crossing, their safety should depend, not upon their efforts to scramble out of the way of trains, but upon the moral and legal obligations of the railroad to keep the trains out of the way of the vehicles."

The writer points out that if a train were crossing instead of teams, or if a car were in the way, obligations of the railroad to keep the trains out of the way of the vehicles."

The writer points out that if a train were crossing instead of teams, or if a car were in the way, the railroad would have means to prevent the accident. He then says: "If railroads can afford to protect their rolling stock in the way described, the interest and property of the public might reasonably be expected to receive equal consideration. In plain language, the pressing of a button in crossing-houses, in connection with proper signals, would give the public the protection so urgently called for."

The conclusion is not just, nor is the contention reasonable. In the case of a crossing train, or of

There is No Hostility Among indians at Henrietts.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Reporting on an investigation by himself and Mr. Wright, the commissioner to the five civilized tribes, Agent Kelsey at Mustagee, Okla., today advised the Indian Bureau that the Crazy Snake Indian function at Henrietta, near Muskogee, have withdrawn their armed guards. The Indians say they had the armed guards as a precaution against whisky peddlers and thieves. The presence of the armed Indians and the threats of camp followers caused excitement among the white people. The report says the Indians have an entirely peaceful attitude toward the women and children present.

The full bloods and the regro followers of the camp number about 300.

BUSINESS PROGRESS

One year ago we made extensive improvements in our store, but on account of the rapid growth of our business in the past twelve months, we again find it necessary to call to our assistance the architect and the contractor, and the result is that plans, specifications and contracts have been closed for extensive improvements.

On August 1st we must have our store in shape for men and materials, who will be in charge of this improvement. This means positively that merchandise must be moved out, and moved in, in four short weeks, we will inaugurate a "Progressive Business Building Sale." We want the public to know we are growing. Instructions to Department Managers are sweeping and disastrous to profits—cut every price regardless of cost. Start Monday morning, July 13. no stop until August 1st—and sell merchandise every minute.

The result will be some rare bargains for the thrifty shopper. Watch our windows and advertisements.
